Before we begin, I'd like to remind members that we have established an email address and distribution list dedicated to circulating exhibits, motions, or other written materials that members might want to offer as part of our hearing today. If you'd like to submit materials, please send them to the email address that has been previously distributed to your offices, and we will circulate the materials to members and staff as quickly as we can.

I would also remind all members that guidance from the Office of the Attending Physician states that face coverings are required for all meetings in an enclosed space, such as committee hearings. I expect all members on both sides of the aisle to wear a mask, except when you are speaking. I now recognize myself for an opening statement.

More than a year ago, this subcommittee launched an investigation into digital markets. Our two objectives have been to document competition problems in the digital economy and to evaluate whether the current antitrust framework is able to properly address them. In September 2019, the chairman and ranking members of the full committee and the subcommittee issued sweeping bipartisan requests for information to the four firms that will testify at today's hearing.

Rep. Cicilline: (01:06 (https://www.rev.com/transcript-editor/shared/ FX24Jlb75YkV0wn0tdgEzn7hr3YnKHIFRajHC36cpuN8-

Since then, we've received millions of pages of evidence from these firms, as well as documents and submissions for more than a hundred market participants. We also conducted hundreds of hours of interviews. As part of this investigation, we have held five hearings to examine the effects of online market power on innovation and entrepreneurship, data privacy, a free and diverse press and independent businesses in the online marketplace. We've held 17 briefings and round tables with over 35 experts and stakeholders in support of our work.

This investigation has been bipartisan from the start. It's been an honor to work alongside my colleague, Congressman Jim Sensenbrenner, the subcommittee's ranking member, as well as the former ranking member of the full committee, Congressman Doug Collins. We work closely with all members of the subcommittee on both sides of the aisle who have taken this work seriously and studied these issues carefully. As my colleague, Congressman Ken Buck, recently commented, and I quote, "This is the most bipartisan effort that I've been involved with in five and a half years of Congress."

The purpose of today's hearing is to examine the dominance of Amazon, Apple, Facebook and Google. Amazon runs the largest online marketplace in America, capturing 70% of all online marketplace sales. It operates across a vast array of businesses, from cloud computing and movie production, to transportation logistics, and small business lending. Amazon's market valuation recently hit one and a half trillion dollars, more than that of Walmart, Target, Salesforce, IBM, eBay and Etsy combined.

Prior to the COVID-19 pandemic, these corporations already stood out as titans in our economy. In the wake of COVID-19, however, they're likely to emerge stronger and more powerful than ever before. As American families shift more of their work, shopping and communication online, these giant stand to profit. Locally owned businesses, meanwhile, mom and pop stores on main street facing an economic crisis unlike any in recent history.

Rep. Cicilline: (03:47 (https://www.rev.com/transcript-editor/shared/FX24Jlb75YkV0wn0tdgEzn7hr3YnKHiYFRaJHC36cpuN8-hRZCoC_eanIZkNRqAAoCUftC5429mmv3rvjnTX3PpTL0?loadFrom=PastedDeeplink&ts=227.38))

As hard as to believe it's possible that our economy will emerge from this crisis even more concentrated and consolidated than before. These companies serve critical arteries of commerce and communications. Because these companies are so central to our modern life, their business practices and decisions have an outsized effect on our economy and our democracy.

Rep. Cicilline: (04:10 (https://www.rev.com/transcript-editor/shared/FX24Jlb75YkV0wn0tdgEzn7hr3YnKHiYFRaJHC36cpuN8-hRZCoC_eanIZkNRqAAoCUftC5429mmv3rvjnTX3PpTL0?loadFrom=PastedDeeplink&ts=250.04))

Any single action by one of these companies can affect hundreds of millions of us in profound and lasting ways. Although these four corporations differ in important and meaningful ways, we've observed common patterns and competition problems over the course of this investigation.

Rep. Cicilline: (04:25 (https://www.rev.com/transcript-editor/shared/FX24Jlb75YkV0wn0tdgEzn7hr3YnKHiYFRaJHC36cpuN8-hRZCoC_eanIZkNRqAAoCUftC5429mmv3rvjnTX3PpTL0?loadFrom=PastedDeeplink&ts=265.39))

First, each platform is a bottleneck for a key channel of distribution, where they control access to information or to a marketplace, these platforms have the incentive and ability to exploit this power. They can charge exorbitant fees and pose oppressive contracts and extract valuable data from the people and businesses that rely on them.

Rep. Cicilline: (04:45 (https://www.rev.com/transcript-editor/shared/FX24Jlb75YkV0wn0tdgEzn7hr3YnKHiYFRaJHC36cpuN8-hRZCoC_eanIZkNRqAAoCUftC5429mmv3rvjnTX3PpTL0?loadFrom=PastedDeeplink&ts=285.92))

Second, the platform uses its control of digital infrastructure to surveil other companies, their growth, business activity, whether they might pose a competitive threat [inaudible 00:04:57] to protect its power by stopping or cutting off access for any potential rival.

Rep. Cicilline: (05:06 (https://www.rev.com/transcript-editor/shared/FX24Jlb75YkV0wn0tdgEzn7hr3YnKHiYFRaJHC36cpuN8-hRZCoC_eanIZkNRqAAoCUftC5429mmv3rvjnTX3PpTL0?loadFrom=PastedDeeplink&ts=306.27))

Third, platform technologies to extend their power, whether it's through self-preferencing [inaudible 00:05:14] or requiring users to buy additional products [inaudible 00:05:17] wielded their power in destructive, harmful ways in order to expand.

Rep. Cicilline: (05:23 (https://www.rev.com/transcript-editor/shared/FX24Jlb75YkV0wn0tdgEzn7hr3YnKHiYFRaJHC36cpuN8-hRZCoC_eanIZkNRqAAoCUftC5429mmv3rvjnTX3PpTL0?loadFrom=PastedDeeplink&ts=323.15))

At today's hearing, we'll examine how each of these companies has used this playbook to achieve and maintain dominance and how their power shapes and affects our daily lives. So, why does this matter? Many of the practices used by these companies have harmful economic effects. They discourage entrepreneurship, destroy jobs, hike costs, and degrade quality.

Rep. Cicilline: (05:43 (https://www.rev.com/transcript-editor/shared/_FX24Jlb75YkV0wn0tdgEzn7hr3YnKHiYFRaJHC36cpuN8-hRZCoC_eanIZkNRqAAoCUFtC5429mmv3rvjnTX3PpTLo?loadFrom=PastedDeeplink&ts=343.75\)\))))

Simply put, they have too much power. This power staves off new forms of competition, creativity and innovation. While all these different things may still produce some new innovative products, their dominance is killing the small businesses, manufacturing, and overall dynamism that are the engines of the American economy. Several of these firms also harvest and abuse people's data to sell ads for everything from new books to dangerous so-called miracle cures.

Rep. Cicilline: (06:11 (https://www.rev.com/transcript-editor/shared/_FX24Jlb75YkV0wn0tdgEzn7hr3YnKHiYFRaJHC36cpuN8-hRZCoC_eanIZkNRqAAoCUFtC5429mmv3rvjnTX3PpTLo?loadFrom=PastedDeeplink&ts=371.25\)\))))

When everyday Americans learned how much of their data is being mined, they can't run away fast enough. In many cases, there is no escape from the surveillance because there's no alternative. People are stuck with bad options. Open markets are predicated on the idea that if a company harms people, consumers, workers, and business partners will choose another option. We're here today because that choice is no longer possible.

Rep. Cicilline: (06:35 (https://www.rev.com/transcript-editor/shared/_FX24Jlb75YkV0wn0tdgEzn7hr3YnKHiYFRaJHC36cpuN8-hRZCoC_eanIZkNRqAAoCUFtC5429mmv3rvjnTX3PpTLo?loadFrom=PastedDeeplink&ts=395.54\)\))))

In closing, I'm confident that addressing the problems we see in these markets will lead to a stronger, more vibrant economy. Because concentrated economic power also leads to concentrated political power, this investigation also goes to the heart of whether we, as a people govern ourselves, or whether we let ourselves be governed by private monopolies.

Rep. Cicilline: (06:55 (https://www.rev.com/transcript-editor/shared/_FX24Jlb75YkV0wn0tdgEzn7hr3YnKHiYFRaJHC36cpuN8-hRZCoC_eanIZkNRqAAoCUFtC5429mmv3rvjnTX3PpTLo?loadFrom=PastedDeeplink&ts=415.2\)\))))

American democracy has always been at war against monopoly power. Throughout our history, we've recognized that concentrated markets and concentrated political control are incompatible with democratic ideals. When the American people confronted monopolies in the past, be it the railroads or the oil tycoons or AT&T and Microsoft, we took action to ensure no private corporation controls our economy or our democracy. We face similar challenges today. \.

As gatekeepers of the digital economy, these platforms enjoy the power to pick winners and losers, to shake down small businesses and enrich themselves while choking off competitors. Their ability to dictate terms, call the shots, upend entire sectors, and inspire fear, represent the powers of a private government. Our founders would not bow before king, nor should we bow before the emperors of the online economy.

Throughout my long time in Congress, I have prioritized oversight as one of our seminal responsibilities. Part of that responsibility is to periodically review the effectiveness of our laws. I think it's a good and timely thing that we are now turning our attention to technological innovations, which brings us to all of your companies. Our country is stricken by a pandemic becomes a dramatic illustration of the extraordinarily reliance Americans have on technological innovations.

Tim Cook: (04:12:33 (https://www.rev.com/transcript-editor/shared/FX24Jlb75YkV0wn0tdgEzn7hr3YnKHiYFRaJHC36cpuN8-hRZCoC_eanIZkNRqAAoCUFtC5429mmv3rvjnTX3PpTLo?loadFrom=PastedDeeplink&ts=15153.94\)\))))

Congresswoman, I can't see this email. I'm sorry. My eyes are not good enough to read it. But I see Screen Time as just an alternative, that there are over 30 parental control apps that are in the app store today. And so there is vibrant competition for parental controls out there.

Ms. McBath: (04:12:53 (https://www.rev.com/transcript-editor/shared/FX24Jlb75YkV0wn0tdgEzn7hr3YnKHiYFRaJHC36cpuN8-hRZCoC_eanIZkNRqAAoCUFtC5429mmv3rvjnTX3PpTLo?loadFrom=PastedDeeplink&ts=15173.74\)\))))

Okay. Well, Mr. Cook, the fact is that Apple sidelined Screen Time's competition by keeping them out of the app store. And while Apple claims these competitors weren't meeting Apple's privacy standards, these apps' creators say that you admitted them back in six months later without requiring significant privacy changes. And of course, six months is truly an eternity for small businesses to be shut down, even worse if all the while a larger competitor is actually taking away customers.

Ms. McBath: (04:13:28 (https://www.rev.com/transcript-editor/shared/FX24Jlb75YkV0wn0tdgEzn7hr3YnKHiYFRaJHC36cpuN8-hRZCoC_eanIZkNRqAAoCUFtC5429mmv3rvjnTX3PpTLo?loadFrom=PastedDeeplink&ts=15208.75\)\))))

And this is not the first time something like this seems to have happened, Mr. Cook. Let me give you another example of the harm that's been caused to your competitors. In 2010, Apple introduced an online bookstore called the iBookstore where it offered eBooks. And the only major publisher that didn't agree to join iBookstore was Random House. Random House wanted to offer its own eBooks through its own apps, and submitted their apps to be added to the app store. Amidst continued negotiations between Apple and Random House, senior VP, Eddie Q. Said, and I'm quoting him. I'm quoting him when he said, "It prevented an app from Random House from going live in the app store." Q. himself cited this app projection as a factor and finally getting Random House to give in and join iBookstore. Mr. Cook, is it fair for Apple to use its power over the app store to pressure a business to join Apple's own app?

Tim Cook: (04:14:35 (https://www.rev.com/transcript-editor/shared/FX24Jlb75YkV0wn0tdgEzn7hr3YnKHiYFRaJHC36cpuN8-hRZCoC_eanIZkNRqAAoCUFtC5429mmv3rvjnTX3PpTLo?loadFrom=PastedDeeplink&ts=15275.81\)\))))

I can't see the email. And so I don't know the context of it, but there are many reasons why the app might not initially go through the app store gate. Because it may not work properly. There may be other issues with it. So it's very difficult to see. I would say though, on a macro basis, the gate to the app store is very wide. We have 1.7 million apps in it. It's become an economic miracle with over $138 billion of commerce just in the US.

Ms. McBath: (04:15:10 (https://www.rev.com/transcript-editor/shared/FX24Jlb75YkV0wn0tdgEzn7hr3YnKHiYFRaJHC36cpuN8-hRZCoC_eanIZkNRqAAoCUFtC5429mmv3rvjnTX3PpTLo?loadFrom=PastedDeeplink&ts=15310.97\)\))))

Well, Mr. Cook, I really, really appreciate that sentiment, but I want to say to you that Apple enjoys enormous power to control which apps can reach consumers, even some of the largest companies in the country fear your power. Our evidence suggests that your company has used its power to harm your rivals and boost your own business. This is fundamentally unfair and harms small businesses that rely on you to reach customers and stifles the innovation that is the lifeblood of our economy. Ultimately, it reduces the competition and choices that are made available to consumers and that is a great concern to all of us. And I yield back.

Rep. Gentlelady yields back. That concludes that round in light of the request of Mr. Gates for a third round. And because many of my colleagues would like to get more fulsome answers on a number of issues, we'll proceed to a final round. And my expectations we will conclude within the hour. And I'll recognize myself for five minutes. Mr. Zuckerberg, we've seen the dominance of several of the companies appearing before us today that it's not just harmful to our economy and competition, but it's harmful to the founding principles of our democracy.

Facebook and Google are designed to keep users on their platforms, whatever the cost. Because disinformation, propaganda and hateful speech are good for engagement, they're good for business. But over a hundred years ago, the Supreme court justice, Oliver Wendell Holmes Jr. wrote, "The most stringent protection of free speech would not protect a man in falsely shouting fire in a theater and causing panic." My first question is, Mr. Zuckerberg, do you agree with that principle that there are limits to harmful and false speech, and that are particularly important when it comes to the health and safety of the public?

Mr. Zuckerburg, with all due respect, except that it is often the most engaging. It brings the most likes, or it brings the most activity, which of course produces great profits. So you do have an incentive. The more engagement there is, the more money you make on advertising. So let me ask you a question. Let me give you some specific examples that will illustrate my concerns. These are some of the top 10 most shared articles on Facebook in 2020. Mr. Zuckerburg, with all due respect, the problem is Facebook is profiting off an amplifying disinformation that harms others because it's profitable. This isn't a speech issue. Congressman, I'll certainly answer that, but I have to disagree with the assertion that you're making, that this content is somehow helpful for our business. Thank you, Mr. Zuckerberg. I just have one more question for you. I appreciate that, Mr. Zuckerberg. When a television station runs a false political advertisement, they're held liable for that. Why should Facebook or any other platform be different? While you may not be a publisher you're responsible maybe not for the first posting, but you then take that posting and you apply a set of algorithms that decide how you will disseminate that, which is a business decision, not a first amendment decision. Yeah, I think these examples unfortunately, Mr. Zuckerberg, are just the tip of the iceberg. It's not just about COVID. Facebook hosts enables countless pages and ads that are dedicated to conspiracy theories and calls to violence, including content that led

Sir, can you just make a blanket commitment? Can you just make a blanket commitment, whether you're aware of it or not?

A blanket commitment to what? Sorry, Congresswoman, I'm trying to be helpful.

Reporting all sales of stolen and counterfeit goods to law enforcement and to victims to track large-scale offenders engaged in organized retail.

I see no reason why, if we're aware of stolen goods, we wouldn't report it. We would want the correct law enforcement authorities to be involved.

I thank the gentle lady for yielding back. I want to thank the witnesses for their testimony today and my colleagues on both sides of the aisle. I also want to acknowledge the extraordinary work of our team led by Slade Bond, Lina Khan, Amanda Lewis, Phil Barrenbrook, Anna Lionheart, and Joe Van Why, who've done an extraordinary job throughout this investigation and in preparation for our hearing today.

Today, we had the opportunity to hear from the decision makers at four of the most powerful companies in the world. This hearing has made one fact clear to me. These companies, as exist today, have monopoly power. Some need to be broken up, all need to be properly regulated and held accountable. We need to ensure the antitrust laws, first written more than a century ago, work in the digital age. When these laws were written and monopolists were men named Rockefeller and Carnegie. Their control of the marketplace allowed them to do whatever it took to crush independent businesses and expand their own power.

Well, the names have changed, but the story is the same. Today, the men are named Zuckerberg, Cook, Pichai, and Bezos. Once again, their control of the marketplace allows them to do whatever it takes to crush independent business and expand their own power. This must end. This subcommittee will next publish a report on the findings of our investigation. We will propose solutions to the problems before us. As a great American Supreme Court Justice, Louis Brandeis, once said, "We must make our choice. We may have democracy or we may have wealth concentrated in the hands of a few, but we can't have both."
